Prolog: Interview

"Hello Orlando, great to see you."

"You too."

"You are looking good, is that because you have taken a break?"

"Yeah, of course, I mean, it is great to have a lot of free time again. I can sleep long..."

"What are you doing the whole time? Isn't it boring?"

"No, of course not. I meet friends, take long walks with my dog, go shopping, read a lot, simply relax..."

"When do you plan to go to work again?"

"Well, I'll see... There were a lot of interesting scripts, but I've nothing planned yet."

"What do your fans think about your break?"

"I get a lot of letters where people are asking, when I am going to come back again, but some fans can understand me, that's quite good to know..."

"But you miss your work?"

"Of course I do."

"Who is that pretty girl you were seen with several times in London?"

"..."

"Orlando?"

"You know that I am not answering questions about my personal relationships."

"Well, I am sorry... Would you like to answer just one more question?"

"Go ahead."

"Is it true, that you thought about moving to America?"

"Were did you get that? It's definitely not true. London is my home and will always be my home. I don't plan to move away."

"Thank you for the interview."

"No problem."
